Brenda Crawford, Makai Properties, Island of Kauai

"I have been meaning to call you for a long time ever since my first ad came out to tell you how great it's been. The first open house I held at my condo I was showing the magazine to some folks and they were really interested. They asked me if financing was available and I said 'you know what as a matter of fact...' and I flipped over to the back side of the cover and told them that Pacific Rim Bank is the only lender that is lending on fractional financing. Then I flipped to the inside and showed them Trans Pacific Mortgage and said 'these are the mortgage brokers. In fact here is Candace Chase. She's the one you would want to call and talk to!' It was all there and then I showed them Old Republic's page and told them that these are the folks that do the escrow for fractional. So I handed them the magazine, they asked if they could keep it and I said 'Please do! It's one stop shopping for real estate; it's got everything in there you need.' I thought that was really awesome that I can support the lenders that are supporting me in fractional financing and that we can all advertise in the same place and work together. So good job and I got to tell you, that representative that you have here over on Kauai - she's awesome you should keep her! Call me if you have any questions unless you want to talk about this more but I'm real pleased with the magazine. Thanks, Torey."

Tobi Fisher, MacArthur and Company / Sotheby's International Realty, Island of Hawai`i

"It was only our second ad with Luxury Home Magazine. We had some visitors pick up your publication here in Hilo and saw the home. They gave us a call, got on our website, and within 10 days we had the property in escrow with them. We are very pleased with the service and the quality of the publication. We also enjoy the strategic distribution that you do throughout the state, as well as the targeted mailing that you do for us that has had some great responses as well. So we are very committed to having a presence in the magazine every issue. We look forward to a great year with you folks!"

Roseann Bronston, Marketing Director of Archipelago, Oahu, Hawai`i

"We asked our largest client where they found us. They told us Luxury Home Magazine!"
"Advertising with Luxury Home Magazine has been a positive and rewarding experience for Archipelago, refined island interiors. Luxury Home Magazine reaches the high-end clientele that is Archipelago's market. The magazine is mailed to select clients in Hawaii and on the mainland. The day after we received our issue we had a call from a Maui resident owner, who was at LAX, with his copy of the magazine. He was very interested in doing business with our company. In addition to a high quality magazine, the customer service provided by Luxury Home Magazine is outstanding."
